Projects

PrimeVibes:

- Developed a dynamic React-based web application enabling users to effortlessly search and locate products featured on TikTok.
- Devised a search functionality that employs state management, alongside filter and map methods, to accurately render product selections from a JSON dataset.
- Implemented a user-centric design; selecting a product image navigates seamlessly to a detailed product page, enhancing the overall user journey.
- Crafted a friendly user interface with HTML and CSS styling, ensuring a responsive and engaging user experience.

To-Do-List:

- Developed an interactive to-do list application leveraging React's useState hook, providing a user-friendly interface for task management and real-time state updates to ensure a responsive user experience.
- Implemented persistent state management for list items using local storage, ensuring data retention and continuity of user tasks across sessions, even after page reloads, until explicitly removed by the user.

React Calculator:

- Developed a simple calculator application utilizing React's useReducer hook for enhanced state management, enabling complex mathematical computations and user interactions in a seamless, efficient manner.
